
Dog beds

Posted by Nade - 2009/11/29 12:45

Hi all,

We have 2 large, plastic dog beds, one in green and one in red - we got the red one as my dad gave it us for Rocky, but Rocky was terrified of it and never used it.

When we picked up Bonnie, she came with the green bed and so now we have 2. Just thought we would see if anyone wanted them.

Thanks x

If no-one on here wants them check with your local rescue. They always need stuff like that.

Pets at home are running a promotion where you can donate prezzies to the local kennels/cattery - might be an idea.;

Hi,

Nadine is in Blackpool, this was posted up quite a while ago so she may have already donated them to the RSPCA.

I am sure that she will be on later, though.

Hi all, just thought I would add that the dog beds were dropped at the RSPCA while we were at Parkhall today. Apparently they are very chuffed as they get loads of big dogs who's owners cannot handle them. . . .(sound familiar?) We also gave them Bonnie's cone collar as she never used it when she had the snip as she is so good, she left her stitches alone. They were well chuffed, especially when my ma advised they had them because members of JAWT cared about all dogs in need.
